The restaurant from Christchurch offers 101 different dishes and drinks on the menu for an average price of £12. Loch Quay offers a mixed but generally positive dining experience in Christchurch. Guests appreciate the high-quality meals, with standout dishes like fish and chips and lamb shank earning particular praise for their flavor and presentation. While service tends to be attentive and friendly, some diners felt overlooked, especially when the restaurant was less busy. The automatic 10% service charge has drawn criticism, alongside limited vegetarian options. The venue's atmosphere is best enjoyed when it's lively, yet it remains a solid choice for a lovely meal, with commendations for its cleanliness and convenient location near local attractions. Overall, Loch Quay is a worthy culinary destination.
