The restaurant from Stoke-on-Trent offers 166 different dishes and drinks on the menu for an average price of £28. The Abbey is a historical pub turned gastropub with a charming and well-organized interior. The service is fast and friendly, with a great selection of beers that are hard to find elsewhere. The food is described as incredible, with perfectly balanced dishes that are some of the best in St Albans. Meanwhile, Dylan's is praised for its lovely staff, delicious food, and quirky interior. The cocktails are mentioned as being good, and the atmosphere is described as having a good vibe. The food menu is highly recommended, with dishes like duck leg and pork being highlighted as delicious options. The overall experience at both restaurants appears to have impressed customers, making them eager for a return visit.
