On this site, you can find the complete menu of Rebecca's Coffee Shop from Fermanagh. Currently, there are 15 meals and drinks up for grabs. Nestled in the heart of Enniskillen, this quaint restaurant offers a variety of dining experiences, ranging from delightful prawn salads to commendable sausage rolls. While some patrons rave about generous portions and friendly service, others express disappointment over inconsistent meal sizes and limited fillings. Despite the pleasant atmosphere and efficient staff, mixed reviews on specific dishes suggest that quality control could improve. Desserts often miss the mark in both appearance and pricing. Overall, while many enjoy the café's charm and cozy vibe, others leave eager for a more satisfying meal.

REBECCA'S COFFEE SHOP

Rebecca Dick was the first person to sell freshly baked home-made bread in Enniskillen in the early 18th Century. Her name is commemorated in the title of our Coffee Shop and is intended as a tribute to all those who worked and traded in The Buttermarket.

The figure below is "The Ring", the original 6th Century Celtic figure carved and on White Island in Lower Lough Erne.
