Golden Fish Inn has garnered a mixed bag of opinions, reflecting the highs and lows of its culinary offerings. While some patrons lament the recent decline in food quality—particularly soggy batter and improperly cooked fish—others hail the establishment for serving some of the best fish and chips available, with generous portions and friendly service. Diners appreciate the crispness of the cod and the freshness of the fries, often finding themselves overwhelmed by portion sizes. Overall, while there are areas needing improvement, many are hopeful for a return to the restaurant's former glory.
