Aragon Fisheries, a longstanding favorite in Knaresborough, has drawn mixed reviews since its recent ownership change. While many patrons reminisce about the shop's once-exemplary standards, recent feedback reveals a decline in food quality, particularly with soggy chips and undercooked fish. However, numerous visitors still highlight the friendly service and the value for money, praising the generous portion sizes and the freshness of dishes prepared to order. Despite some disappointing experiences, loyal customers remain optimistic about the potential for improvement, emphasizing the restaurant's local reputation for traditional fish and chips. The neighborhood eagerly anticipates a return to form.
