Here you can find the menu of The Ensign Ewart in Edinburgh, City of. At the moment, there are 29 courses and drinks on the menu. Located just a three minute walk from Edinburgh's famous castle, The Ensign Ewart is a cozy pub named after a Scottish soldier who fought at the Battle of Waterloo. This charming establishment on 521 Lawnmarket offers a variety of hearty dishes made with locally sourced ingredients, such as Scottish Venison Casserole and Smoked Salmon. As the highest pub in Edinburgh, parts of The Ensign can be traced back to around 1603. The decor of the pub reflects its rich history, with exposed beams, horse and weapons paraphernalia, and depictions of Ensign Ewart at the Battle of Waterloo adorning the walls. In addition to four cask ales, The Ensign also features separate gin and whisky lists that are updated regularly. Guests can enjoy live music most nights of the week, ranging from local unplugged acts to modern and traditional folk tunes.
