The Boot Inn, once a favorite pub with a superb riverside location, has unfortunately taken a turn for the worse under new management. However, the variety of food at different price points, good quality, and friendly staff make it worth a visit. Some guests have had mixed experiences with long waits, limited menu options, and poor management, while others have enjoyed wonderful birthday lunches, delicious meals, and excellent service. With a beautiful beer garden, river view, and great beer selection, this pub has the potential to be a top spot for dining and drinks if consistency and quality improve.
